hormones carefully measured and formulated in an appropriate cream or gel need only be rubbed once or twice a day into your mucous (epithelial) membranes.

higher levels of oxytocin result in higher social cognition and improved social motivation.

frequently it is the families of these individuals who need the most support and protection, yet they are left on their own to fend for themselves.