the increase in medical school training places means we should now be filling junior doctor vacancies from doctors trained in the uk its certainly a tobacco to be treated with respect, insomuch as amaturish packing or the slightest misstep will make it taste awefull.