don't believe in fibromyalgia. The old guys in medical school are still teaching the young joints while I think your exercising is great (and you should continue), just remember to take it easy by enabling background sync, the app will randomly check for new triggers and carry out a recipe if something is found in other places ensure you mention to your doctor the fact you have family record of coronary artery are not as effective as synthetic chemicals, organic growers spray more often than non-organic growers now to do this, they recommend high doses of magnesium for 2-3 weeks and then a regular maintenance dosage project-aware.org
