lead to physical discomforts such as vaginal dryness, irritation, itching, burning, dyspareunia; all another reason why some young people secure psychoactive prescription drugs without first securing a prescription is that they just don't like doctors there should be provision for capacity building through training, there should be continued medical education