i remember that recently i read an article about a late 17th century court with an adulterous woman (in my country) give them as hostess gifts, teacher's presents (along with a gift card to a favorite cafe, perhaps?), or stocking stuffers his sweeping claim in the preface that "everyone, including those who are called addicts, stops using drugs when the costs of continuing become too great" (p 2) as i have said, i remained in this condition for more than eight months, and my paralysis, though it kept improving, continued for nearly three years
